Look, feel and live your brightest and best

Dr. William McGillivray and Dr. Jason Rivers, along with their team at Pacific Dermaesthetics, understand that most of their clients are not driven by the aspiration to conform to some formulaic ideal of beauty. Rather, they want the face they present to the world to reflect the best of their personalities, their inner selves. Clients undergo treatments for themselves, because if they look good, they feel good.

Laser Technology has evolved to serve this goal. Fractionated laser resurfacing has emerged as one of the most effective tools in assisting people to put their best face forward. The benchmark in the field remains the Fraxel® systems, including the Re:store and Re:pair platforms. Time and living leave their record on our face. Skin pigmentation can become uneven with the appearance of both red and brown discoloration. Fine lines and wrinkles appear around the eyes and mouth with deeper wrinkles emerging on the chin, cheeks and forehead. A broad range of concerns such as acne scars, smokers' lines, sun damage and wrinkles can be addressed with the Fraxel® system in just a few treatments. The result is that your skin glows - similar to that of your youth.

The Fraxel® lasers stimulate the body's own systems to produce new skin cells, collagen and elastin over a period of approximately 12 months contributing to a fresh, rejuvenated look. Acne, surgical scars and stretch marks can make us self-conscious and rob us of confidence as we face the world. Add to this health concerns like pre-cancerous lesions (called actinic keratosis). Fraxel® laser treatments have proven effective in dealing with all of these issues. The lasers can be used on both the face and body, and can be used on individuals of all skin color, ethnic background and age.

The results speak for themselves. The flexibility of the system permits Drs. Rivers and McGillivray to tailor the treatment to meet individual needs to produce results that are immediate, progressive, and long lasting. When contrasted to those results, the amount of downtime is more than reasonable. Fractionated laser resurfacing also lends itself to complementary use in combination therapies, such as Thermage®, Botox® and fillers, amplifying the benefits.

Of course, even the finest technology remains dependent on the skill of the hands wielding it. Drs. McGillivray and Rivers combine comprehensive training with extensive clinical experience (30 years combined). Their expertise has garnered respect throughout the industry. Solta, pioneers in fractionated technology and owners and manufacturers of the Fraxel® laser systems, recognize them as industry leaders, consulting them for their opinions.
